

HazCom/GHS Safety Training

With recent updates to the Hazard Communication Standard (HazCom), it's important that your team fully understands the changes and how to implement the new Globally Harmonized System (GHS) requirements, from updating pictograms to creating secondary labels.

Our HazCom/GHS Safety Training will get your team up to speed on both regulatory requirements and best practices for implementation.

This service offers a unique approach to training. Not only do we provide training on regulatory requirements, we consult with you beforehand so we can incorporate elements of your current HazCom program into the curriculum.
